TRENDING

a touch of timber

Wood grains are stealing the limelight yet again – this time in the bathroom. For a timber-look floor without the maintenance, try the Affinity collection by Polyflor. Or, if you're after a vanity, check out Ingrain Designs' custom-made recycled timber range. Find them at polyflor.com.au and ingrainedesigns.com.au.

WISH LIST

NOTHING SAYS LUXURY QUITE LIKE A MARBLE BATH, AND THE NEW BIANCO CARRARA 'ATOLLO' TUB FROM MAMO IS CARVED FROM NATURAL STONE FRESH FROM ITALY. WE'RE IN LUST. FROM $37,999. MAMOLIVING.COM.AU.

THE RIGHT FORMULA

Decision fatigue is a common side effect of renovating, especially when it comes to bathrooms. Now there's light at the end of the tunnel in the form of Reece's new The Bathroom Happiness Lab Book – think sticker sheets, planning tools and ready-made mood boards to help you pinpoint your style. Pick up a free copy in-store or at reece.com.au.

hard knock

Following concrete-rendered walls and concrete basins, concrete tiles are now having a moment. Chinese design studio Bentu has released a range of wall tiles made from ground ceramic waste and recycled concrete. Prices for the Six series start from $34 a tile. From Remodern; visit remodern.com.au.
